Design a Child's Bedroom!

1.Colour!

The colour of the walls in your child's bedroom is a big deal! The brighter the paint, the more energy the room is going to have. The calmer the colour, the more mellow the mood. In children's bedrooms we tend to want calm and mellow tones to encourage rest.

2. Minimalism

For the most part, its best to keep their rooms as a place to rest, use their imagination and to do homework if they are of that age. That's not to say they cant have toys in their room, just keep them organised and specific for imagination play.

3.Window Dressings

Consider the way in which the room faces. South facing bedroom will tend to get a lot of sunlight in the afternoon into the evening so make sure you look for blackout/thermal lining options as well as considering whether a blind or floor length curtains will work best in that room.

4. Zone the Room

When it comes to furniture placement, consider zones within the room. Sleep zone, reading zone, play zone, dressing zone. By keeping to these ideas the room will flor easier day to day.

5. GET THEM INVOLVED!

Designing a child's bedroom is personal to their little personality so get them involved. Let them help with choosing colours or wall prints and see what ideas they have! It is their creativity space afterall!
